OPENING SESSIONS PAKER:

Jim Bob Solsbery is a powerful, national speaker who attributes his sense of humor and the power of visualization as the catalysts in overcoming his childhood speech problem. He states, "Laughter is contagious but so is negativity—which one do you want to spread?" Mr. Solsbery will provide a hilarious presentation, rich with valuable insights, that will leave us educated, motivated, entertained and feeling pride for our profession. He has succeeded as a business owner and entrepreneur, professional trainer, Executive Director for the US Department of Agriculture, and, most importantly, as a previous career technical educator! He plans to leave us with practical strategies that can be immediately implemented, creating a win-win experience for all involved.

WONDERFUL WORKSHOPS!

MANY Professional Speakers will be joining us this year from across the country! With the new STEM initiative, presenters will provide information on project based curriculum and working towards sustainability through environmentally "green" implementation techniques. As we partner with the "High Schools That Work" initiative, a phenomenal arena of break-outs will be available, as well! All of this, of course, will not take away from the division-specific workshops that are geared specifically to you, and the GREAT vendor offerings, providing the latest and greatest in the upcoming technology! There will be something for everyone!
